NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

All the Knights of Honor lodges of Louisville, Jeffersonville and New Albany joined for a 14th annual celebration at Central Park on last Thursday.

A contract for an equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee to be erected in Richmond, Va., has been awarded to the French sculptor, Mercie, of Paris.

Among the graduates from Yale Law School this year is J. W. McGwynn, a colored man of Baltimore, who took the second honors in his class of six. He is also a graduate of the law department of Howard University at Washington. He will lecture and practice his profession in Baltimore.

Frank A. Goodpastor, a prominent young business man of Owensville, is dead. He was for a time a heavy tobacco dealer, and was well known in the markets of Louisville and Cincinnati. Mr. Goodpastor was a member of the Democratic State Executive Committee and was active in political affairs.

Mr. Jasper Ottum, who for the last five years has been living in our midst, has struck it rich. His gold mine, the "Faldaff," in the San Jose Valley, California, has turned out to be a fortunate investment made years ago.

He invested a comparatively small amount there and has been offered $500,000 for his interest.—Georgetown News.

Wool which comes from Australia to England in the grease is now preferred by the manufacturers of cloths, its elasticity being less damaged on arrival than when clipped from sheep and carefully hand washed.

Don Rankin, Addison county, Mo., is thought to be the largest individual feeder of cattle and hogs in the world. His farm embraces 25,000 acres, from which he gathered 1,000,000 bushels of corn. It is not an uncommon thing for him to turn off as many as 5,000 cattle and 10,000 hogs in a season.

John Meely, a Bell county man, has sold his farm on Yellow Creek, consisting of 1,000 acres, to some English buyers. The price he received was $30 per acre, making the entire sale worth $30,000. It is astonishing to see how the value of lands in Southeastern Kentucky has advanced in price since the L. & N.'s new extension.—Bourbonville News.

There are 43 wholesale and 325 retail dealers in oleomargarine in Massachusetts. This list comprises one-sixth of all the wholesale and one-tenth of all the retail dealers in oleo in the United States who have paid taxes to the Government on this commodity, indicating that more oleo is made and consumed there than in any other internal revenue district of the country.

There is no necessity for land remaining idle any considerable length of time. Either a crop to be harvested or to be turned under as a green manure should be in the soil, and if, in addition, a regular system of rotation is carried out, the soil can be kept in a good state of fertility with a less quantity of manure than if one class crops is raised continuously without green manuring.—Farmers Home Journal.

The matter of breeding improved seed corn should receive attention on every corn-growing farm with a view of improving the quality of the corn and thus increasing the yield. Every intelligent corn-grower knows how frequently barren stalks are met with in a field of corn. But the pollen from the barren stalk may fertilize the ear growing on stalk next to it, and as like produces like the corn from that ear if used for seed will bring more or less barren stalks.

The bonds, stocks, insurance policies and other effects of Judge Lochrane, deceased recently in Atlanta, Ga., are missing. Their value is about $200,000. They are probably in some safe deposit vault in the North. The Judge was attorney for the Pullman Car Company, and was an intimate friend of Mr. Pullman and of Lawyer Isham, of Chicago. Mr. Lincoln's law partner, Mr. Pullman is abroad, and Mr. Isham says he knows nothing of the whereabouts of the securities. The will is also missing.

Patriotic citizens from all parts of the country are sending in their contributions to the Star's Grant Monument fund. The New York Times yesterday announced that the total amount of subscriptions received reached the creditable sum of $2,367.46. During the past week the fund was increased $1,243.12, making a grand total of $3,710.58, and from the general interest manifested by the public it is confidently expected that the double the amount of dollars will be the record next week.

Jacob Sharp, an aged and prominent resident of New York, has been found guilty of larceny, and sent to prison. The penalty is more than ten years at hard labor, or a fine of $5,000, or both. A new trial will be asked. Jacob Sharp's crime was bribing a ring of Aldermen in the board of 1884 to obtain the franchise for the Broadway street railroad over other competitors. The bribe money aggregated $500,000. For receiving the bribe several Aldermen are already in Sing Sing, serving out ten-year sentences; others are still awaiting trial, and a number are in Canada or Europe.

The New York and Harlem Railroad Company has sold to James E. Woodward, president of the Hanover National Bank, the Madison Square Garden for $1,000,000. Mr. Woodward afterward transferred the property to the Madison Square Garden Company for $1,500,000 "par value" of the company's stock. The railroad company took a mortgage on the property for $600,000, payable in 1892, from Mr. Woodward in part payment. The property covers a plot 197 feet 6 inches by 425 feet, and takes in the seventh from Twenty-sixth to Twenty-seventh streets and from Madison to Fourth avenues. The Madison Square Company is composed of some of the richest business men in the city, who have left the purchase of the building to a special committee. They intend to tear down the old structure and erect an amusement house on the old plot at a cost of $1,000,000.

It is now estimated that the loss resulting from the destruction of the city of Marshfield, Wisconsin, will not be less than $3,000,000, and may be nearly $5,000,000. The heaviest losers are the Upham Manufacturing Company, whose loss is approximated at $800,000; Sanger, Rockwell & Co., of Milwaukee, $450,000, representing a whole lot's cut of lumber; Tremont Hotel Company, $25,000; Mayor A. W. Upham, general store and stock, $50,000; Marshfield Bank, $10,000. There are about one thousand losers, the amount varying from $500 to $10,000. Twelve solid blocks of stores were destroyed.

Persons who have been or may hereafter be witnesses in the United States court will be interested in the following: In the matter of John Duff against A. J. Gross, United States Marshall, Judge Barr in the U. S. Court at Louisville, has rendered an opinion, holding that the Controller, under the Statutes, has no authority to make a regulation that a witness in the United States Court cannot be paid his fees on a properly executed power of attorney. In this case Duff was allowed a witness claim, and sent a regular power of attorney to Col. Sini McKee to collect the same. The Marshall refused, under instructions from District Attorney Wickliff to pay the claim unless this witness went in person and signed the pay-roll; whereupon Duff by his attorney took a rule against Capt. Gross to compel him to pay the claim to his attorney. Capt. Gross referred the matter to Comptroller Durham, who wrote him that the Controller would not recognize such payments. Judge Barr holds the Controller has no authority to enforce or prescribe such a rule, and that a witness can be paid, and the Marshall must pay the fees on a proper power of attorney.

MR. LAMAR.
New York Star.

Mr. Blaine's newspapers, which have all along been referring to Secretary Lamar as "dreamy" and "lethargic," "The professor in the clouds," and "a man better suited to the professor's chair or the bench than for the control of a great department," are now stultifying themselves by trying to prove that the Secretary of the Interior does not possess a "judicial temperament," because on several occasions he has exhibited manifest indignation at Republican outrages. The latest proof of his deficiency in the calmness that becomes a judge is a quotation from an eloquent outburst in opposing a resolution reflecting on the purposes and patriotism of the people of the South. If Mr. Blaine's organs continue this style of contest they will increase the great popularity of Secretary Lamar among conservative people of all sections.

OPINIONS OF OTHER EDITORS.

NEW YORK POLITICS.

The prohibition candidate for State Auditor makes Hart's statue, "The Triumph of Chastity," an issue in the campaign, and quotes Scripture against it. By and by he will be calling for an edition of the Bible with the foot-washing incident in the Book of Ruth expurgated, thus marring one of the most pleasing love stories ever written.

FURKAKER AND SHERMAN.

Cleveland Plain Dealer.

We do not think that Furkaker's friends would induce him to do it. There is no doubt that they would like to get Furkaker out of the way. Furkaker has a better chance of being the Republican nominee for Governor than Sherman has, and Sherman is afraid of him. We suppose if Furkaker is nominated for Governor the Shermanites will stain his record. They will never let him be elected Governor.

WITHOUT PUSH.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Panama Canal people have gone back to France to see if they can get 200,000,000 francs more ($30,000,000) to push their ditch through. They will probably get it. Europe has so much invested there that she is not likely to quit while her hope is left. Meanwhile the United States, with all her superabundant money, is doing nothing to cut the isthmus, and has quietly witnessed Canada building her Transcontinental Road. It begins to look as if, both by rail and water, we are to be cut off from the trade of the great East.

MR. CLEVELAND AND 1888.

Chicago Herald.

Judge Thurman, of Ohio, expresses the conviction that Mr. Cleveland will be re-elected. Judge Payson, a member of Congress from Illinois, who has acquired desirable reputation as an opponent of land subsidies, and for the first time in his public life has found the Executive heartily in accord with his ideas concerning the forfeiture of unneeded land grants, admits that Mr. Cleveland will be a formidable candidate. The events of a twelfth month cannot well be foreseen, but there is little doubt that when the Democratic National Convention assembles next year no other name than Cleveland's will be mentioned.

PROSPERITY OF THE SOUTH.

New York Evening Post.

The prosperity of the South has been greater during the past two years than in any previous years since the war. These two years have been the first time in that period when there have been a Democratic Administration at Washington. It would, of course, be absurd to attribute the recent prosperity solely to the election of Cleveland, but the Republicans so long insisted that everything good was due to the national Administration, that they can not reasonably complain if the Democratic organs and stump-speakers now follow the example. It is going to be hard work next year to persuade Southern voters, either white or black, that they would gain anything by electing a Republican President.

TURN 'EM OUT.

New York Star.

We beg to respectfully call the attention of the highest federal authorities to the significance of the case of Levi Bacon, financial clerk of the Interior Department. The irregularities of this officer have, it seems, been going on year after year, and it is only through his death that discovery has been made. Had he been replaced at any time the same revelation would have ensued. How many other hold-over officials are there who are as assiduous at their posts only for the purpose of continuing to conceal delinquencies? It is absolutely certain that reformation of the public service can not be completed until those who were identified in confidential positions with the management of affairs under the old system are displaced.

EDUCATION AND RELIGION.

Commercial Gazette.

As to the hostility of the Roman Catholic Church to the public schools, which the writer alludes to, it is simply that the Church is unwilling to lose its hold upon its children by turning them into schools which exclude the teaching of religion, and that it holds that the exclusion of religion from the school education is an abandonment of the rising generation to heathenism. The same argument has been made by prominent Congregational and Presbyterian and other clergymen, and has been declared by Protestant Episcopal Convention. It was the principle of the great stirring up in this city when the state he has exhibited mainly in the public schools as an opening ceremony. It may, therefore, be taken as a principle universally assented to, although the sway of the State school system has submerged it in all but the Roman Catholic.

MR. LAMAR.

New York Star.

Mr. Blaine's newspapers, which have all along been referring to Secretary Lamar as "dreamy" and "lethargic," "The professor in the clouds," and "a man better suited to the professor's chair or the bench than for the control of a great department," are now stultifying themselves by trying to prove that the Secretary of the Interior does not possess a "judicial temperament," because on several occasions he has exhibited manifest indignation at Republican outrages. The latest proof of his deficiency in the calmness that becomes a judge is a quotation from an eloquent outburst in opposing a resolution reflecting on the purposes and patriotism of the people of the South. If Mr. Blaine's organs continue this style of contest they will increase the great popularity of Secretary Lamar among conservative people of all sections.

ATTACKING THE PRESIDENT.

Boston Herald.

The impudence of politicians has been taxed to the utmost to find pretexts for attacking the President. Not we repeat, with bitterness, except in a few instances. The manner in which Mr. Cleveland disposes acerbity is another of the involuntary virtues paid him. The assault is made on a system of conspiracy and of misrepresentation. The assailants are yet further disgraced by a demagogism in relation to the subject of pensions of which no patriotic party should be guilty. They snatch eagerly at such mistakes as those made about the battle of Gettysburg, and magnify their importance to the utmost. Through it all prevails one purpose—the purpose to pull down the Administration, without regard to the right or wrong of its policy. These politicians feel that the most dangerous lesson the country can learn is that it may be safely governed by more than one party. They must remove the example of the Democratic President if their own power is to be retained.

WHERE THE RESPONSIBILITY BELONGS.

Washington Post.

John Sherman, in the course of an interview, a day or two ago, at Mansfield, denying that he had said the Fidelity Bank, of Cincinnati, was a Democratic institution, made this statement: "For my part I said nothing and heard nothing said concerning politics with the bank, except that I said the Democratic party is responsible for the surplus, and therefore responsible for money being deposited in any bank. Of course, the party is responsible for the surplus. The leaders tried to cut down the revenue, and disagreed among themselves. That's why we have such vast deposits." This gives one of a very good idea of Senator Sherman's notions of truth and Republican statesmanship. The Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee in the House of Representatives made repeated attempts in the last two Congresses to discuss and revise revenue legislation with a view to prevent further accumulations in the Treasury. The Republicans in the House, with no more than half a dozen exceptions, voted each time against even consideration of the question, and because their party did not happen to be in majority insisted that on them rested no responsibility whatever for the successive failures to make even an effort to relieve the Treasury.

Joe Mullanbach.

Joe Mullanbach, who is more or less known to fame as one of the greatest liars in the country, is now living in Louisville, Ky. He never smokes nor drinks and is extremely generous with his money. He is a successful drummer. He will work a month on some startling yarn not half a column in length, and his stories have always had wide circulation in the newspapers. It takes considerable genius to be an artistic liar, and Mullanbach has brought his talents to a high state of perfection. In business and social intercourse his word is as good as his bond, but his bonds are not always quoted at par.—New York World.

The Louisville, Cincinnati and Virginia Railroad Company that propose to build the road from Winchester to Proctor is organized as follows: Major J. L. Robertson, of New York President; W. D. Hill, of Birmingham, Vice President; Douglas Green, of New York, Secretary and Treasurer.

Directors—T. G. Stuart, of Winchester; Gen. John S. Williams and A. W. Hamilton, of Montgomery; Col. E. F. Hart, of Birmingham, and Mr. F. K. Hale, of New York.

Mr. John W. Elliott, who was recently married at Mt. Sterling to Miss Eliza Hamilton, daughter of Mr. George Hamilton, of Flat Creek, was a son of the unfortunate Judge John W. Elliott, whom Buford killed.

A CITY OUT WEST.

Correspondence of THE CLIMAX.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 29, 1887.

It was only a few days ago, much against my wishes, that I left my old home in Madison county, Ky., to make this place my future abode. Much is said of this place in Kentucky; but with it all, the human mind has failed to grasp and express the business that is done here. You can see here thousands of men working upon the streets daily at wages from $1.50 to $2.50. They are busy cutting down hills, rounding, terracing and beautifying the residences, and she well deserves the name of "Terrace City." I have made it a special point to find out the following facts. Her associated Bank clearing last year was $284,639,909.93; her assessed valuation of property was $51,250,000; her rate of taxation was only 14 mills, and her total indebtedness $851,364.05.

She has 21 school buildings worth $240,000. She has 64 churches and places of worship. Fourteen railroads centering at a union depot and four more in course of construction. Four thousand three hundred business houses and they employing a capital of $47,234,737. She has 295 manufacturing, employing 10,635 men, and $6,752,000 worth of goods. She has 4,023 new buildings at a cost of $10,550,000. Her death rate for the past year was only 15.34 per 1,000 inhabitants. She has opened 1,176 new business houses the last year. She has ten banks with a paid up capital of $5,500,000. Her real estate transfers for the year were $1,640,083. She expended in paving streets for the year $243,925.39—a little more than Richmond. She expended in sewers $141,900.78. She has the best Fire Department in the United States. She is brilliantly lighted with electricity and gas, and has a superb system of water-works. Her benevolent societies are unequalled by any city in the union. She has five theatre buildings.

Now comes the interest to Madison county farmers. Kansas City received last year in cattle, 505,908 head, hogs 2,540,560, sheep 177,776, horses and mules 34,232. She has shipped—cattle 338,051; hogs, 540,002; sheep, 88,213; horses and mules, 26,922. Her packing—1,709,095 hogs; slaughtered 102,865 cattle and 29,159 sheep. She has received in grain for the year—wheat, 2,855,632 bushels, corn, 4,651,373, oats, 1,629,569. She draws her trade from Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming, Utah, Montana, Dakota, New Mexico, Texas, Arizona, Nevada, Indian Territory and Old Mexico. She has a complete network of cable, elevated, dummy, electric and street railways valued at $2,250,000, and ten franchises now granted for more. Her hotels are in keeping with the times, and more are building.

She is the geographical center of the greatest agricultural country in the world; and her inhabitants are made up of the cream of all the states of the Union, so far as I have found them. Nature has so mixed and made her hills that they are turned into brick, which are laid in her dwellings and business houses. She has the best natural drainage of any city I ever saw. Location is such that she has more sun-shine than any other locality, (hotter too) and justly deserves the name of the Italy of America. She is not fictitious, neither is she a flirt, but is decidedly substantial and works good for her 150,000 souls, and will treat all who come here in the same decided manner. Now there are many people from Kentucky who come here and return home, and all they can say, is she is a good city, or she is "a daisy" or "a lummer," but with the travel I have had all during life I have never seen a city like this, and consequently I have made it a point to find out all I can write you, which is correct. You no doubt will think that I am in the real estate business, from this letter, but I am not, and don't intend to be. At present I am doing nothing, but expect soon to introduce a patent post-hole digger with the hole already dug. In case I am successful there will be a fortune in it for me. I desire to subscribe for THE CLIMAX.

W. J. Q.

A CENTENARIAN COUPLE.

Two thousand people assembled at Blue Ball Church, Hardin county, one day last week, to participate in the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Fanny Hill. Her husband, John Hill, who is eleven months younger, was present. Both were in the prime of life, and happy with their children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and great-great-grandchildren. The oldest child is 73 years, and the youngest 69 years. Mrs. Hill was born in Culpeper county, Virginia, and was one of five children, and also one of fourteen children, all of whom lived to see families, and three of whom lived to be more than ninety years of age. Mr. and Mrs. Hill have been married seventy-four years. Mr. Hill's first Presidential vote was cast for General Jackson. During his long and active life Mr. Hill has never been a party to a law suit, has never been a witness before any court, and never served as a grand juror. He has never been a candidate for office, and once when his acquaintances undertook to have him elected a Justice of the Peace he prevented them from doing so by saying he would not serve if elected. He says in early days, when his brother-in-law ran seven plows with his seven boys, he thought that was pretty brisk farming, but now when he sees two of his great-grandsons run eight plows, and ride at that, the former feat does not seem so great. He remembers the days of the rap-hock, and says that when it was used farmers did not charge their neighbors for working in the harvest-field. He says he remembers one year when his father had forty acres of wheat that forty neighbors dropped in on him and cut in one day with rap-hocks.

Green Mountain Mail has a coil one week old, by Messenger Duran, by her side, valued at $5,600. This is Green Mountain Mail's sixteenth coil. She was 25 years old last spring.

WEALTH OF THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.

The Hawaiian or Sandwich Islands, lying in Pacific Ocean, 2,100 miles from San Francisco, on the line of the steamer for Australia, are at this time attracting the attention of this country to an unusual degree. The export trade of these islands, which had grown from $550,000 in 1880 to $2,000,000 in 1876, reached last year the large sum of $9,000,000, and was almost exclusively to this country. The greater part of this was sugar and rice, with which they supply our western coast. During the same term of years their imports have increased from $800,000 to $5,000,000, of which about four-fifths are from the United States.

At this time there exists much dissatisfaction with their Government on the part of the planters of the Islands. King Kalakaua has largely increased the public debt, the estimated expenditures of the Kingdom for 1886-87 being $1,700,000 in excess of its receipts; and this increasing burden must largely be borne by internal taxation, which would, of necessity, fall upon the producing classes, who are nearly all Americans, engaged in raising sugar rice.

The feeling against the King is so great as to threaten an insurrection that may result in the overthrow of his government, and the interests of this demand that in such event no European Government should be allowed to get possession of the islands or establish a protectorate over them. There has been for a number of years a large party there who favored annexation to this country, and in the event of the failure to maintain their royal family on the throne, that should be the result sought by our own Government. In addition to their commercial value, they would be an extremely valuable naval station.

The population of the islands, which at the first authorized census, in 1832, was 130,000, almost entirely natives, has fallen to 85,000, of which only about 40,000 are natives, and the remainder 25,000 Chinese, 10,000 Portuguese, 4,000 Japanese, 2,500 Americans, and the balance mostly Germans and English. The natives are decreasing at the rate of 6,000 in each decade, and their places are being filled by foreign immigration, so that in a very few years, whatever rights the original population may have to rule, will have passed away with them.

THE ART AMATEUR.

Among the many practical designs in the art amateur for July are a charming plate, printed in twelve colors, of "Kingsfishers," a companion to the "Titmouse" recently given; an entire large full-length decorative figure (Psyche) for outline embroidery for a screen, or for painting—the first of a series of six; a bold design of grapes for carving upon a buffet panel; etching painting designs for a cream-pitcher (aeneas) and a fruit plate (cherries); a study of water-lilies and cat-tails, decorations for a portiere and fire-place facing, borders for response work, and a page of monograms in O. The specially timely practical articles include hints on landscape painting, a "talk" with William Hart on painting landscapes, and cattle, a lesson on landscapes in china painting, and "Temporary Decoration of a Sealable Cover" by Riondon. Other useful articles are on the on-time class, by Charlotte Adams, the palettes of some modern painters, the permanency of certain colors, the "first painting," suggestions of summer needlework, and a talk with La Farge on the re-decoration of the American "meeting-house." There are interesting notices of the London Royal Academy exhibition, the Millet exhibition in Paris, the awards at the Salon, and the French Paintings at the National Academy. "My Note Book," with more revelations about forget paintings, is as spicy as ever, and quite invaluable to picture buyers. Price 35 cents. $1 a year. Montague Marks, publisher, 23 Union Square, New York.

Among the Northern Lakes of Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa are hundreds of delightful places where one can pass the summer months in quiet rest and enjoyment, and return home at the end of the heated term completely rejuvenated. Each recurring season brings to Oconomowoc, Waukesha, Beaver Dam, Frontenac, Okoboji, Minnetonka, White Bear, and innumerable other charming localities with romantic names, thousands of our best people whose winter homes are on either side of Mason and Dixon's line. Elegance and comfort at a moderate cost can be readily obtained. A list of summer homes with all necessary information pertaining thereto is being distributed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, and will be sent free upon application by letter to A. V. H. Carpenter, General Passenger Agent, Milwaukee, Wis.

Syrup of Figs.

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's Own true Laxative. It is the most easily taken and the most pleasant effective remedy known to cleanse the system when bilious or positive; to dispel headaches, colds and fevers; to cure habitual constipation, indigestion, etc. For sale in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles by Stockton & Willis.

MOTHERS! WIVES! DAUGHTERS!

Be your own physician! A lady who for years suffered from distressing female complaints, weaknesses, etc., so common to her sex, and had been deprived of a cure, finally found remedies which completely cured her. Any sufferer can use them and thus cure herself, without the aid of a physician. Two recipes, treatise and full directions free. Sealed. Address Mrs. W. C. Holmes, 655 Broadway, N. Y. (Name this paper.)

Henry Hale, a farmer of Bourbon county, was thrown from a milk wagon and died from injuries received. He left an estate valued at $75,000.

Hiram Pearce was killed by lightning at Somerset. He was standing in a deep hollow, and not near any tree.

RAILROAD PROSPECTS.

Two weeks ago THE CLIMAX warned the friends of the proposed road from Richmond to the Three Forks that the golden opportunity was about to be lost—that the people of Clark county meant at once to build a road from Winchester by Irvine to the Three Forks. That a meeting had been held at Winchester, and steps taken to submit a proposition to a vote of the people of Clark, Estill and Lee counties.

This warning had its effect, and numerous letters have passed between parties here and the management of the Louisville Southern Railroad. More than that, a committee has visited the President and Directors of the L. S., and they proposed to meet the people at the Court-house in Richmond next week. An informal meeting of citizens was held at the Court-house on last Saturday evening, and a committee of two from each voting precinct in the county was appointed to meet the parties and confer with them as to a proposition to extend the Louisville Southern Railroad through this county to Beattyville. A definite proposition will be presented.

As we have before said, it is perhaps Madison's last chance for a mountain road. Our neighbors want the road. Clark is determined to have it. To that end Gen. John S. Williams is now in Estill county, and has been for a week. He is making speeches all over the county on the proposition from the L. C. & V. to give $50,000. The proposition will carry in Estill. Hon. Thomas G. Stuart is in Lee county, so we hear, and stamping it with great energy. A similar proposition to that of Estill is before the people of Lee, and will carry. The people of Garrard, Rockcastle and Jackson want the Louisville Southern to extend from Danville through their territory, and will see that Madison does not get the road for a song.

There is no disputing the fact that a railroad from Louisville through Richmond to Beattyville would be a great and permanent good to Madison county. The cattle, and hogs, and sheep, and tobacco would be benefited by another outlet. The coal and lumber trade would be visibly affected.

Let us investigate the question thoroughly and dispassionately; see how much good there is in it, and what we can afford to pay for it.

OUR STUMP SPEAKER.

Hon. John D. Harris made a speech replete with humor and logic at Lancaster on Monday last, in advocacy of the Democratic ticket. The State Committee should put the Senator to active work in the campaign. A speaker of great power and of the most irresistible humor, there are few speakers in Kentucky who can entertain a crowd as the brainy and jolly popular Senator from Madison.—Frankfort Capital.

Senator John D. Harris is not "sulking in his tent," as charged by some fellows hereabouts, but is making speeches for Buckner and the entire ticket, and good ones, too. The Hon. John D. is not a sulker.—Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

On his speech at the Cynthiana luncheon last Thursday, the Courier-Journal says: "Senator Harris made one of the best speeches of the day, glowing by the repeated expressions of approval which came from the crowd."

The city of Richmond, Va., during the war, tested half a million dollars' paper currency. When the war closed the money was considered as worthless as Confederate money. Most of it has from time to time been gathered together, and now the city has been sued for the par value of the currency. The suit promises to be of more interest to Richmond than the return of the Rebel flags. Who knows but what the regular Confederate money may some day reach a par value?

NOT TWO GOUDS.

The White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., correspondent of the Washington Post has the following to say of Judge M. J. Durbin, which leads the people up in that country to think he is unduly good. But we can assure them that although the Judge does not drink or chew, he can cuss and throw rocks, and won't hesitate to demonstrate the fact if any bogus or illegal claims are presented in his office for adjudication. The paragraph says:

As some may think that a party eschewing one of the great Kentucky staples—whisky—has no possible chance in Kentucky, it may be mentioned that Judge Durbin, the First Controller of the Treasury, although by birth, education, and residence a Kentuckian, is a total abstemious man, learning that other people of this State, tobacco also. When some one, learning that from another in Judge Durbin's presence lately, for the first time, expressed surprise, saying the wonder was the greater because of Judge Durbin being a Kentuckian, he said, "I don't know, but I have seen three campaigns in this State for Congress and have elected each time, but never asked an invitation to drink with anyone, or had any liquor at his headquarters at any time during either of his canvasses. So, I guess some things can be done as well as others."

NEWS PARAGRAPHS.

Elizabethtown has had a $25,000 fire including the Post-office and the Messenger office.

The Palace Hotel, a magnificent four-story structure, was opened at Chattanooga July 4th.

Ben Halliday, the father of the overland stage system of the West, died at Portland, Oregon, last Friday.

The people from Mayfield have erected a monument to the Union soldiers who went from Mason county.

Dr. E. D. Standford, of Louisville, and Miss Scott, of Paducah, were married last week. He is about 35 years her senior.

The loss by fire in the United States during June amounted to $10,182,100. This exceeds the average for the same month in past years by nearly $4,000,000.

John D. Van Gordon, living at Druggman's Ferry, Pike county, was stung on the wrist by a bee, and died after the effects of the injury a few minutes afterwards.

The residence of Mrs. Laura Parrish, near Pine Grove, Clark county, and its entire contents, were burned Saturday. Cause of fire unknown. Loss about $8,000. Not insured.

Mr. Probasco, one of the gentlemen who gave the grand Davidson-Probasco fountain to the city of Cincinnati has given an $8,000 fountain to the town of Clinton, a suburb of Cincinnati.

Mr. James Edwards, of Shelbyville, late of Versailles, and a nephew of attorney D. L. Thornton, eloped with Miss Mary Twyman, of the latter place, the twain were made one flesh in Jeffersonville. Both are under age.

W. R. May, a grocer at Leitchfield, was called to his door Tuesday night and shot down by James M. Lynch, a young man who formerly practiced law in that town, but had been a fugitive from justice for several months. May had whipped Lynch just before his running away.

In 1884, George Smith, George Hughes and Asbury Hughes were hanged at Scottsboro, Ala., for burning a house. Adam Freeman, a convict in Alabama penitentiary, confessed on his death bed that the three men executed had nothing to do with the burning of the house, as he set it on fire himself.

Nine workmen, employed on a new railroad in Chester county, South Carolina, were blown to pieces by a premature discharge of blasting powder. The men were at work some distance from the main camp, and as none of them returned at the usual Friday night, search was instituted, and they were all found in a more or less mutilated condition.

As the people of the South are heard from on the question of returning the Rebel flags, the idea becomes more and more apparent that they don't want the flags. Congressman Crist, of Georgia, in an interview, said: "Our people in the South are all for Cleveland and the old flag—not these Rebel flags, but the old flag of the Union. God knows we don't want the battle-flags. We are too busy to waste time in old issues of that sort."

In 1873, while J. Hamp Swift was Sheriff of Callaway county, his accounts were $3,000 short. He thought a deputy had robbed him. Making good the deficiency bankrupted him. "Cris" has succeeded, and his family as a day laborer. Recently his wife was sent to an insane asylum, and, in her ravings, told of money hidden in a $3,200 in greenbacks. It is thought she concealed the money in one of her attache cases.

Oscar J. Harvey, until recently Chief of the Horse Claims division of the Third Auditor's office at Washington, has been arrested, charged with scheming to rob the Government. Harvey was recently promoted to be Chief of the Law Department of the Second Controller's office, and Hon. Asa H. Brown, of Indianapolis, succeeded him. Mr. Brown, in looking over the files in his office, discovered what he believed to be irregularities, and an official investigation was had, when it was found that there were 161 fraudulent cases entered on the books kept by Harvey, the amount of claims aggregating over $40,000. Many of these claims had been paid.

The subjoined special of the 5th, from Paris, is of interest to certain people: "At the Thurston House, at 4 p. m. to-day, by Elder J. S. Sweeney, Mrs. Rebecca K. Hildreth, widow of Mr. Volney Hildreth, was married to Mr. Griffin Kelley, of Winchester. The groom is seventy-one years of age, and the bride a few months his junior. They formed an acquaintance last February through an advertisement in the Kentucky Herald, in which Mrs. Hildreth advertised her home for rent, and wanted to board with the person reading the notice. Mr. Kelley, seeing the notice called on Mrs. H. to inquire about the terms, and was so struck with her appearance that he made another call and informed her that he was willing to take her for better or for worse, and relieve her of the trouble of renting out the house, and she consented. So it will be seen that Col. Craddock is responsible for this match by inserting the advertisement in his paper, and has proven to the public that he can marry off other parties, even if he can't get off himself. Mr. Kelley says that neither of them is marrying for money, but for love, just as young folks do. He has a nice little farm, and she is also in good circumstances.

Should the fire extend from the cistern factories to the cisterns, and consume the supply of fresh water, the milk men would suffer, and through them the city children. Dan Rice, the showman, a few weeks ago married a wealthy Texas widow, and has been presumably sailing around the "honeymoon" ever since. A few days ago at Kansas City, Dan Rice, a showman, had his arm torn from his socket by an enraged tiger and one of his eyes jerked out. It is possible that the bride party went to Kansas City on a wedding tour and the Texas widow lost her temper at Louisville Commercial.

The Commercial has probably gotten the old story of Daniel in the lion's den mixed up with the marriage of the famous showman.

A NOVEL BIT.—While I am not a betting man, said F. J. Cheney, of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., I considered it my religious duty to make that dead fellow a bet. You see he was about dead, and I guess he would have died before long. If I had not got him up, he would have been dead. You know some men had rather lose their lives than lose a hundred; well he was one of that kind, and we both came near being out, but I saved my hundred and it only cost him ten dollars. How's that? He sent for me one day and said the doctors had all given him up to die, with the catarrh. I told him that I would bet him $100 that Hall's Catarrh Cure would cure him or I would give him $100 if I failed. He took the latter proposition. This was three months ago; you see how he looks now don't you, as well as any man, and a dandy.—American, Toledo, O.

AN ACT.

CHAPTER 12.

AN ACT for taking the case of the good people of this Commonwealth as to the necessity and expediency of calling a Convention to amend the Constitution, and to provide for electing the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State.

WHEREAS, Experience has pointed out the necessity of amending the Constitution and the expediency of calling a convention for that purpose; therefore

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky,

1. That at the next general election for Representatives to the General Assembly, it shall be the duty of the several sheriffs and other officers of election to open a poll for and make a return to the Secretary of State, for the time being, of the names of all citizens entitled to vote for Representatives who have voted at the said election for said sheriffs and other officers of election, readopting, amending or changing the Constitution.

2. That any sheriff or other returning officer failing to perform the duty imposed by first section of the act shall be subject to a fine of one hundred dollars ($100), to be recovered by indictment of the grand jury of any county having jurisdiction thereof, and shall, upon conviction of such failure, be removed from office by the court in which such conviction is had.

3. That for the purpose of ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representatives within this State in the year 1887, there shall be furnished, as hereinafter provided, to the sheriffs and other officers of election, five within this State at the said election. The officers of the election shall be certified officers of registration, and shall have said registration book open for the record of said names between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. on the day of August, 1887, election at all the voting places in this Commonwealth. And it shall be the duty of all citizens of this Commonwealth who are entitled to vote for Representatives, on the day of the next general election in August, 1887, to go before the sheriffs and other returning officers of said election in the voting precinct in which they are severally entitled to vote and cause themselves to be registered on the poll-book as qualified voters of this Commonwealth, and the names of any and all citizens living in the district known to said officers to be entitled to vote for Representative, or made known to them by evidence on that day, shall be registered as not voting. And in the year 1887, no other officer shall be authorized to make any list or return of the qualified voters of this Commonwealth, nor shall any return except those registered on the poll-books and certified by the officers of election, be received or filed by this act be made, and all laws requiring list or returns of such qualified voters are hereby repealed, so far as the year 1887 is embraced therein. The total number of votes so registered shall be the true number of citizens entitled to vote for Representative within this State, for the purpose of ascertaining whether a majority of all the citizens of this State entitled to vote for Representative for the purpose of re-adopting, amending or changing the Constitution.

4. The said registration books shall be appropriately ruled and headed, so that they may, and it is hereby enacted, that the same shall, be the poll-books for recording the votes for and against the calling of the constitutional convention, and for ascertaining the number of citizens entitled to vote for Representative within the State. It shall be the duty of the said officers of election to propose to every voter the question: "Do you vote for calling a constitutional convention or not?" If such voter shall answer in the affirmative, his name shall be recorded as voting for said convention; if such voter shall answer in the negative, his name shall be recorded as voting against said convention, and if such voter makes no answer, his name shall be recorded as not voting upon said question. And it shall be the duty of the officers holding the election at each voting place in the State to certify the total number of voters registered, and the number voting for calling the constitutional convention, and to make out a duplicate certificate showing said facts. The registration book shall be by them immediately returned to the Secretary of State, by mail, to the Secretary of State, at Frankfort, Kentucky, and the duplicate certificate attached to the poll-book for the election of State officers, and return therewith as now directed by law.

5. The Secretary of State in office at the convening of the General Assembly next after the election in August, 1887, shall, immediately after the receipt of the said registration books, transmit to each House a statement, prepared by him, showing the total number of votes cast at the said election, and the total number of voters registered, whether voting for or against or not at all. The report shall be made up by counties. He shall retain the registration books out of this General Assembly, to make out the form of a registration book and certificates to be made and used as herein provided, and to return the same to the Public Printer forthwith, and it shall be the duty of the said Public Printer to make up and bind in the usual form one registration book, with a certificate thereon for each voting place in the State; also the duplicate certificate and the county certificate, and send the same to the several sheriffs and other officers of election, to be delivered and used at the various voting places as herein required.

6. That any officer failing to do or perform any duty of the act, or who shall be convicted of any crime, shall be joined upon him by the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sections of this act, shall be subject to a fine of one hundred dollars ($100), to be recovered by indictment of any grand jury for the county in which such officer resides, and shall upon conviction, be removed from office by the court in which said conviction is had.

7. That if it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to have this act advertised in one weekly newspaper in each county of this Commonwealth, wherein there is such paper published, for four weeks, and in one of the daily papers of the city of Louisville for thirty days immediately preceding the election, and in every county said Secretary shall cause to be posted at the court-house door a copy of this act, printed in hand-bill form, for at least four consecutive weeks before such election.

8. That it shall be the duty of the Public Printer to print ten thousand copies of this act upon a separate sheet of paper and deliver them to the Secretary of State, who shall forward the same to the county clerks of the various counties in this State in such numbers as to provide at least two copies thereof for each voting precinct; said clerks shall deliver the same to the sheriffs and other officers acting in the place thereof; and it shall be the duty of such sheriff or other officer to post one copy of said act at each voting place, and another copy at some other suitable public place in said precinct four weeks prior to the election. Any officer failing to discharge the duties prescribed in this section of this act, shall be fined for each and every failure, twenty dollars, to be recovered in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

11. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved January 18, 1886.

Mayor Mitchell is sick.

Mrs. Dr. Taylor continues seriously ill.

Mr. Ben Price was hurt on Monday by a runaway away team.

Col. John K. Faulkner, of Lancaster, has removed to Richmond.

Dark of the moon is coming and the street lamps ought to be lighted.

Wheat remains at 55 cents in the local market. In Chicago, 73 cents.

It is about time to turn the gas into the street lamps again. The people want more light.

Mr. G. Y. Forman, for E. Forman & Son, sold on last Saturday five cars of wheat to Baltimore parties.

The trial of N. B. Gentry for breach of the peace, resulted in a hung jury. It is said that eleven were for acquittal.

The Richmond and Lexington Turnpike Company will hold an election of officers on next Wednesday. See notice.

All the distilleries in Kentucky, including those of course in Madison county, have closed down for one year from July 1st.

Miss Mattie Peyton, Miss Anna Frazee and Miss Harcourt have been employed as teachers of the Public School in Richmond.

Messrs. Shackelford, Gentry & Co., say their accounts for the first-half of the year were ready July 1st, and are awaiting payment. See notice.

As committee for David McCord, on Thursday, July 23, Squire John McCord will sell the farming implements, household goods and other things.

Ellis & Higgins will remove from Silver Creek to Richmond next month, and occupy the house up on Main street now occupied by F. C. Hays.

Stafford's planing mill, his residence and grounds, and several lots will be sold on September 15th, by J. Stone Walker, Trustee. All valuable property.

Read the advertisement of house and lot for sale by J. I. McKinney. Sale will take place Saturday, July 20th, immediately after the sale of M. Barlow's residence.

Judge Rice has made up his mind that hoodlums and other similar creatures shall not fare easily at his hands, and has several small ones in the chain-gang for trespassing.

The moonlight fey by the children of the Episcopal Church on Wednesday night of last week was a brilliant affair, and netted about $40. The two camps, Gipsy and Indian, were special features.

J. F. Wagers has shipped eight cars of sheep, two of cattle, and one of hogs, the past week—all to Covington. Bates & Maupin have shipped two cars of sheep from Richmond, and some from other points.

Court of Claims convened in extra session this week, ratified the proceedings of the last meeting, and settled the case of the delinquent list. The delinquent list is more than eleven hundred, or about the same as last year.

The case of Commonwealth against El Francis, colored, who killed Dan Beggs, colored, at Kicksville, on the 2nd of July, came up before Judge Chesnut yesterday, and was continued until Monday.

Sam Jones announced to the choir at one of his meetings in New Castle last week that the services were not desired of any one who tampered with the acient, indulged in the light fantastic or manipulated the spotted pasteboards. It was thought this announcement would materially decrease the choir, but the next service showed no effect whatever.

James D. Rees, son of the proprietor of the Rees House, Winchester, and brother of Mr. Chester Rees, a former student in this place, sprang from a third story window of the hotel, on Tuesday of last week, during a temporary alteration of mind, and was so injured that he died within two hours. He was a single man but a friend of the poor.

Turnpike Stock Sold.
Mr. F. A. Buckle, administrator of H. A. Moran, sold 25 shares of stock in the Richmond and Lancaster turnpike at public sale one day last week. Mr. Walter Bennett was the purchaser at $25.00 per share, or $2,500 for the lot. P. P. Ballard, auctioneer.

Rats.
A small dog down at Millon & Fox's livery stable, on last Wednesday, made two seven-trip trips into a hole under the floor, and brought out twenty-seven large rats, which the dog, without much ceremony, proceeded to devour liberally. If you don't believe it we can show you the dog.

The Comedy Company.
The New York Comedy Company, playing a week's engagement at the New Opera House, is a good company, and has presented some excellent pieces while here. The play on Monday night—"A Shot in the Dark," by Miss Gerald—was especially good. They play to-night and to-morrow night.

The Field Monument.
By authority of the Legislature, the Governor has ordered a tomb to be erected over the grave of Col. Ezekiel Field, in Woodford county, similar to that over the remains of his compatriots buried in the military museum at Frankfort. Col. Field was an officer in the Mexican war, and was a brother of Mrs. R. X. White, of this place.

Berea Fair.
The annual stock fair will be held at Berea, on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 3rd, 4th and 5th. General Barker.
Gen. Simon Bolivar Barker, the distinguished candidate for Governor of Kentucky, on the Democratic ticket, will speak at the Court-house in Richmond, on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. Every body is invited. It is worth any Democrat's time to ride miles from the country to hear the Simon-pure Democratic doctrine straight from the fountain head.

Natural Gas Purchase.
The Natural Gas Company bought, last week, of L. E. Francis, a lot on Hallie-Irvine street, between Orange and Irvine streets, opposite Stafford's Planing Mill, and are now placing machinery thereon. Size of lot, 105 by 15 feet; price, $575. Boring will be placed in position. There is a pond on the lot, and should the supply of water be exhausted a pipe can easily be laid across the street to Stafford's pond.

The State Per Capita.
The State per capita for public schools was last year $1.65, which was an increase over previous years. The State Superintendent has just issued the following:

FRANKFORT, KY., July 5, 1887.
White, per capita, for the school year 1887-8, $1.50; Colored, per capita, for 1887-8, $1.00. White, census, 1887-8, 302,322; increase, 10,387. Colored, census, for 1887-8, 107,447; increase, 4,200; total, 409,769; increase, 15,587.

Jos. DESHA PICKETT,
Superintendent Public Instruction.

A Taken of Estem.
The subject of the subjoined paragraph, from the Kentuckian-Citizen, formerly lived in Richmond, since which time she has lived in Paris: "The following expression of appreciation was handed Miss Mary Dennis upon her departure:

PARIS, KY., June 15, 1887.
Miss Mary B. Dennis, First Assistant Paris City School:
This Board cannot permit you to go away from us without the expression of our high consideration for you as a lady, teacher, character and citizen, and also of our great regret that your interest in your view, calls you to employment elsewhere. We bear testimony to your faithful and uniform success as a teacher; and we trust that your usefulness, if it were possible, may be increased and the breadth of appreciation widened in the new location you seek.

In behalf of the Board of Education of the city of Paris, Ky.
J. M. THOMAS, Chm.

New Music.
The latest song by that noted writer, Will S. Hays, has been received at this office, and is entitled "Don't Good Old Days." It follows closely upon the heels of that pathetic piece, "Who Tied That Grape on the Door?" The two songs are destined to meet that rich public approval accorded so many of his former productions, such as "Mollie Darling," "Driven from Home," "Zephaniah," and many more all over America and Europe. Col. Hays is editor of the Louisville Weekly Commercial, and was for many years River editor of the Courier-Journal. He is a humorist of note, but his songs have given him far greater reputation. Published by Rogers Tully Co., Louisville.

Two other new pieces are "Darling I Will Come Again," and "Where Have they laid my Darling?"—one a love song and the other a mother's lament. They are published by Ign. Fischer, Toledo, Ohio.

This Week.
The Board of Trustees for the Richmond Public School, this week, are Dr. L. J. Frazee, Prof. P. H. Sullivan and Mr. Joe Bush. It seems there is a new board every week. The first Saturday in June there was an election at which Dr. Frazee, Professor Sullivan and Mr. Joe Bush were appointed. Mr. Frazee and Mr. Sullivan were elected. As a compromise both withdrew, and thereupon Professor Sullivan declined to assume the office. Messrs. W. R. White and Henry C. Hargis were appointed. Seeing a supposed trouble in the dim distance, Mr. Hargis declined, and thereupon ex-Mayor Greenleaf was appointed. At this juncture, Mr. Henry R. Pickles, who was holding over from a previous election, resigned, and the grounds will be in fine condition, an ample premium list is presented, and as usual the best of order will be preserved. There will be one hundred and eleven rings, from $2 to $20. Needle-work, knit goods, woven fabrics, dairy and garden products, berries, dairy and garden products, poultry, cattle, horses, mules, jennets and jacks. A special ring for ladies. Officers: President, Eliza Whit; Vice-President, A. B. Hays; Secretary, T. J. Coyle; Treasurer, A. T. Fish. Directors: Wm. Coy, Jacob M. Hays, Gordon, Isaac, Wm. Johnson, Wm. Terrill.

Real Estate Sales.
W. T. Tevis has sold to D. P. Armer a lot on Hallie street, adjoining the lot purchased by the Natural Gas Company. Size, 70 by 500 feet; price, $501. Squire Armer has sold to a Mr. Long, a resident of the county, a lot lack of Armer's residence, upon which a house will be built and a grocery opened. This will be the fifth store in the depot locality. Mr. S. V. Rowland, of Danville, has bought of Dr. C. D. Pattie, his house and lot on High street for $2,500. Dr. Pattie is already in Wichita, Kansas, and his family will follow at the close of the summer. Mr. S. B. White and wife, now residing on Second street, will remove to the Pattie property in the fall.

Estill Springs.
Among the guests at Estill Springs during the past week have been Gen. Jno. S. Williams, Col. A. W. Hamilton, of Mt. Sterling; Judge Isaac Saffran, E. F. Hurt, R. G. Robinson, of Birmingham, Ala.; J. A. Robinson, of Louisville.

Misses May B. Lizon, Lena W. Lizon and Sadie A. Wilgus, and Messrs. C. C. Wallace, E. M. Huguey and G. C. Francis composed a pleasant party to the Springs on Sunday.

Mrs. Wornall, Miss Croxton, Miss Taylor and Miss French, of Winchester, came over to Richmond, on Monday, and proceeded at once to Estill Springs. They will be joined this week by the Messrs. Stuart and Miss Darnaby, also of Winchester.

Miss Laura Moss and Miss Laura Moss Walker went to the Springs yesterday.

Judge Breck and Senator Bennett are at the Springs.

Turnpike Election.
At the April Term, 1887, of the Madison County Court of Claims, the following order was entered, viz:

STATE OF KENTUCKY,
Madison County Court of Claims,) and Levy.)
A majority of the Justices of the Peace of Madison County being present and concurring therein: It is ordered that a Poll be opened by the Sheriff of Madison County at each of the regular voting places in said county at the next August election, 1887, (being the first Monday in August), for the purpose of taking the sense of the qualified voters of the said county upon the proposition whether or not to authorize this Court to subscribe stock for Madison County to all Turnpike Companies which have been, or may hereafter be, legally incorporated in said county, at the rate of One Thousand Dollars per mile, for each mile of Turnpike that may hereafter be constructed within the limits of said county, to be paid only upon the completion of each mile, or upon the Court being satisfied that means are in the hands of the Company to insure its completion, without debt.

At said Election those voting for or against the One Thousand Dollar Turnpike subscription shall be headed "For One Thousand Dollars Turnpike Subscription" and "Against One Thousand Dollars Turnpike Subscription." The Poll shall be examined and certified by the regular Examining Board, which certificate shall be recorded on the Order Book of the County Court.
